

COVID-19 even harder for people with cancer

Cancer medications weaken the immune system, treatments are being delayed, and in the worst cases, cancer patients are losing their jobs and health insurance benefits.

A survey by the American Cancer Society found nearly half of cancer patients reported the pandemic is harming their mental health; 67% were worried about the impact of relaxing social distancing rules.

After much deliberation, Cancer Services is transitioning the annual Tribute Dinner to a virtual event for safety reasons. It was a difficult decision. Not only because it has become a beloved tradition, but also because it is an important fundraiser.

Because cancer patients are at a higher risk from COVID-19, Cancer Services needs to be extra vigilant in our response. COVID brought unexpected expenses, such as technology to allow us to continue to safely serve clients, more cleaning supplies costs and personal protective equipment for clients and staff.

The greatest concern is keeping up with the need for financial assistance to help clients with treatment, medication and health insurance costs. Cancer Services estimates financial assistance expenses could be as much as $100,000 more than what was budgeted for 2020.

Additionally, many groups and organizations that generously hold fundraising events to benefit Cancer Services are unable to hold their activities resulting in about $88,000 less in donations.

Your help is needed more than ever. Your donation will help provide mental health counseling, needed equipment and supplies and financial assistance to people with cancer. Your gift helps local families battling cancer.

Cancer Services staff is geared up to safely help people with cancer.

This is how you can help

You can pay tribute to those touched by cancer when you donate. This also is an opportunity to honor the heroic health care professionals who care for cancer patients.

- Consider donating the traditional cost of a ticket ($100) or a table ($800).
- For a donation of $25 or more, you can share a Tribute honoring a person touched by cancer. Your Tribute will be included in the digital program on the Cancer Services' website and in a live broadcast.
- Tune in at 1 p.m. Wednesday, September 2, 2020 as we announce the 2020 Champion of Hope recipient and broadcast Tributes. Visit www.cancer-services.org for more information.

New outreach coordinator

Cancer Services of Northeast Indiana is pleased to welcome Emma Schaefer as our outreach coordinator. She previously worked as the volunteer and events coordinator at the Children's Bureau in Indianapolis.

Survivor Academy Online

When Cancer Services temporarily closed its doors to programs in March, we sped into action to ensure clients and the community would have digital access to wellness programs. Survivor Academy Online is a cache of tai chi, nutrition, yoga and guided meditation videos for you to view anytime at home. Visit cancer-services.org for more information.

New Director of Donor Impact

Katherine Mac Aulay

You give to Cancer Services for very important – and personal – reasons.

Consider the donor who made a donation to Cancer Services to honor his grandmother, a retired teacher whose devotion to helping children went far beyond the classroom. That gift helped pay for Courageous Kids, a program that helps children deal with their fear and anger when their parent is battling cancer.

Or the group of loyal friends who lost their fun, creative and beautiful best friend to breast cancer. They wanted to make sure Cancer Services would always have fun and bright-colored wigs available for the next young mother who loses her hair during chemo.

The why behind the generosity of a donors' gift is always more important than the how – or the how much. To ensure that your donation is making the impact you want it to make, Katherine Mac Aulay has joined Cancer Services resource development team as director of donor impact.

Katherine has 40 years of experience in non-profit management, most recently serving as the executive director of the American Red Cross of Northeast Indiana. She will use her many years of experience to connect people to the mission. She will work with individual donors to build stronger relationships with the people who support Cancer Services.

Cancer Services needs to make certain we have the resources required to meet the growing needs of local families devastated by cancer. And have the financial ability to improve programs and add programs that will truly make a difference for everybody in Northeast Indiana who has cancer.

To meet these goals we want people to know more about all the ways they can help.

We are sharing information about what bequests can accomplish and reaching out to local estate planning attorneys, financial planners, trust officers and other professionals so that they know about Cancer Services and all the programs and services available here.

Cancer Services is partnering with local community foundations to build endowment funds so donors can focus their giving to support the communities in which they live.

If you have questions about the impact your donation makes for people with cancer or want to learn other ways to provide support, Katherine would be grateful for the opportunity to talk with you. You can reach Katherine by calling (260) 484-9560 or emailing kmacaulay@cancer-services.org.

Cancer Services is entirely supported by charitable contributions. Some support comes from local foundations, but it is the individual donors who make the most impact - sending regular checks, buying tickets to fundraising events, and walking to raise money with friends. These gifts come with "no strings attached," which means we are able to fund innovative new programming and balance resources so that people can get what they need when they need it.

When you read this list of amazing donors and wonder if your gift matters, please know that the organization wouldn't exist without it.
