CANCER SERVICES AND FORT WAYNE CIVIC THEATRE COLLABORATE ON UNIQUE EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY

Cancer Services of Northeast Indiana has partnered with the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre to offer a special presentation of the touching and humorous play, "Grace & Glorie." The April 10th event is an entertaining as well as educational opportunity for local social workers, nurses or hospice volunteers.

The play, written by Tom Ziegler and directed by Phillip H. Colglazier, the Civic Theatre's executive and artistic director, is a moving comedy about two strangers who are brought together by chance, but help each other mend the huge losses in their lives.

The event includes appetizers and a networking session before the play and a 30-minute post-show discussion facilitated by Gail Hamm, LCSW, OSW-C, who is the program director at Cancer Services. Social workers and nurses attending the program will earn 2.5 Continuing Education Hours (CEH's).
